HSBC Group has full knowledge of the remuneration of the executive directors and non-executive directors employed by HSBC Group. The Board is also of the view that given the sensitive and confidential nature of employees' remuneration, detailed disclosure on the remuneration of each of these individuals is not in the best interests of the Company and may affect adversely the cohesion and spirit of team work prevailing amongst the employees of the Company and the parent Company. Since the Company is a wholly-owned subsidiary of the HSBC Group, providing such remuneration details will prejudice the Company and the parent Company's interests in relation to its competitors, given the highly competitive conditions in the financial industry where poaching of executives is common place. As a matter of policy, executive directors and non-executive directors employed by HSBC Group do not receive any remuneration or fees for their services as directors for the Company.. The remuneration for such directors is delivered in their capacity of employees of the HSBC Group and is decided in line with HSBC Group's remuneration policy. For the independent no-executive directors, their total annual compensation is one of the items booked under "Professional Fees" in the Company's Audited Financial Statement (page
